

Joint Labour Committee for the food industry, subsector : Tinned meat, sausages, salted meat, smoked meat and meat derivatives, Guts factories (processing and treatment of rough and dry guts, calibrating and sticking included), Fat melting, Poultry slaughterhouses, Slaughterhouses and workshops for cutting meat

In accordance with European law, this document only contains provisions of collective labour agreements (CLA) which have been declared universally applicable within the meaning of Directive 96/71/EG, i.e., in Belgian Labour Law, conventional provisions made mandatory by Royal Decree, and which are criminally sanctioned in case of non-compliance.

For this reason, this document is regularly updated. It is recommended that posted workers and their employers consult the documents regularly during the period of posting. The date of the last update is indicated in the top right-hand corner.

This document is based on sectoral CLA's. The competent Joint Committee is therefore the one that can ultimately deliver a judgment about the right interpretation of its CLA's.

Only the Dutch and the French versions of the text of the decision to declare a provision universally binding (AVV Decision) has legal validity for the determination of rights and obligations.

8	18,36	18,70	18,76	18,81	19,04	19,30	19,54

The seniority taken into account in the salary structure shall be calculated on the basis of all proven periods of employment within the same salary class. This seniority corresponds to the worker's increased experience and competence in his/her job.

The periods of employment within the same salary class shall include all activity periods and periods treated as such, as listed in Article 3, § 4 of the CLA of 18.12.2013 relating to the end-of-year bonus

(119 881/CO/118, RD 08.06.2014 – BOG 13.11.2014), regardless of the nature of the employment contract and including the periods of employment as a temporary worker in the company. However, only periods of employment within the same salary class occurring during the following reference periods shall be taken into account:

	Seniority within the salary class (months)
	<12	≥12	≥24	≥36	≥38	≥60	≥72
Referte- periode	-	3 ans	5 ans	7 ans	9 ans	11 ans	13 ans

The progression shall apply from the first day of the pay period in which the required seniority has been reached.

In the event of promotion, the salary of the higher job class shall apply immediately. However, in the event of promotion to a higher salary class, there can be no loss of salary due to the loss of experience in the salary class.

CLA of 14 December 201 (172.636) RD 07/11/2022- BOG 28/03/2023

This CLA shall take effect on 1 January 2022 and shall cease to be in force on 31 December 2022.

Thereafter, it shall be tacitly extended for successive periods of one year.

This CLA shall not apply if a CLA including an analytical job classification has been signed at company level

- 16 legal and conventional annual holidays;
17. public holidays and lieu days of public holidays;
18. days of temporary unemployment;
19. military obligations of the citizens of a country of the European Union.

CHAPTER III. Amount of the end-of-year bonus

Art. 4.

§ 1. The calculation of the amount of the end-of-year bonus will be performed as well on the basis of the fixed remuneration as on the variable remuneration and on the benefits in kind that are subject to social security deductions. Bonuses or allowances granted as consideration of actual costs are not taken into account.

§ 2. The amount of the fixed remuneration equals 4 and 1 / 3rd weeks of gross hourly wages of December of the calendar year in which the end-of-year bonus. will be paid.

§ 3. Contrary to the preceding paragraph and in order to take into account the influence of campaign activities, the Parties agree that the gross hourly wage, to be taken into account for the payment of the end-of-year bonus by the employers and the blue collar workers of the sugar factories shall be calculated as follows:

- The first part equals 3/4 of the hourly wage that was due on 1 September of the current year;
- The other part equals 1/4 of the average hourly wage of November of the current year (including shift bonuses).

§ 4. The amount of the variable remuneration equals the monthly average of the contractual bonuses received from January till November of the calendar year in which the end-of-year bonus will be paid. The term "variable pay" is defined as: the contractual bonuses that are directly linked to the services performed by the blue collar worker, on which deductions are made for social security and periodicity of payment does not exceed one month.

Art. 5. For each day of unauthorized absence, a certain percentage may be deducted from the amount of the end-of-year bonus determined by the Works' council, the union delegation or the work rules.

CHAPTER IV. Loss of the right to the end-of-year bonus

Art. 6.

§ 1. Lose the right to an end-of-year bonus:

- The blue collar workers who voluntarily leave the company during the first year of service;
- The blue collar workers who are dismissed for an urgent reason.

§ 2. Are not regarded as voluntary departure by the blue collar worker:

- The departure of the worker following an action by the employer and which is equivalent to a termination of the employment contract;
- The termination of the contract due to force majeure as a consequence of an occupational disease or an industrial accident.

CHAPTER V Payment of the end-of-year bonus

Art. 7.

Unless other arrangements have been agreed upon within the company, the end-of-year bonus is paid:

- before 25 December of the current calendar year for workers employed on 1 December;
- for the other workers: at the moment they leave the company.

Five Days Week

CHAPTER III. Principle of the five-day week

Art. 3.

The timetables provided in the work rules divide, in principle, the maximum weekly working time over five days

CHAPTER IV. Exceptions

Art. 4.

Without prejudice to the provisions of the Labour Act relating to Sunday rest and work on public holidays the timetables may differ from the principle set out in Article 3 provided that there is an economic need for it and that at least one of the following reasons can be invoked:

- a) monitoring the company's premises;
- b) cleaning, repairing and maintaining, in so far as these activities are required for the regular continuation of the company activities;
- c) additional work outside of the production that is necessary for the regular resumption of the operations the next day;
- d) shift work to carry out work that should not be interrupted except for the bridge teams as provided for in Article 7 of the collective labour agreement of 30 March 1988 on the introduction of new working arrangements in companies;
- e) in case existing or pending collective labour agreement at company level regulate the derogation from the five-day week;
- f) if the employer calls in volunteers, provided a six-weeks' notice period is given in advance. Voluntariness must be in writing;
- g) if the employer calls in non-volunteers, after information of the works' council and / or the trade union delegation and provided a notice in advance of six weeks is given. In this case, the workers concerned may be employed up to six times per reference year for more than five days a week. The reference year is the calendar year or the 12 months period specified in the work rules or in a collective labour agreement for the compensatory rest for overtime or the application of the average working hours on a yearly basis.

Art. 5.

Performances, outside the five days established in the work rules are possible provided an economic necessity can be invoked and as far as the procedures for commissioning overtime hours are respected and the employer commissions overtime hours because of:

- a) work performed in order to cope with an occurred or imminent accident;
- b) urgent work on machinery or equipment;
- c) work required because of unforeseen circumstances as defined in the Article 26 of the Labour Act;
- d) work to prevent damage to raw materials or products;
- e) work to cope with an exceptional increase of work.

CHAPTER V. Bonus

Art. 6.

§ 1. The sixth and seventh performed day of the week entitle in principle to a bonus of 25% of the normal basic hourly wage, unless stipulated otherwise in existing or pending collective agreements concluded at company level. This bonus is not due either if it is integrated in a shift bonus or replaced by equivalent benefits.

§ 2. The sixth and seventh effectively performed day of a week, comprising a holiday or alternative holiday falling on a Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday or Friday, entitle in principle to a bonus of 50% of the normal basic hourly wage, unless stipulated otherwise in existing or pending collective labour agreements concluded at company level. This bonus is not due if it is integrated in a team bonus or replaced by equivalent benefits in an enterprise agreement.

§ 3. The overtime allowance for overtime work performed on the sixth or seventh effectively performed day of the week is calculated on the normal basic hourly wage increased by the bonus determined in § 1 or 2.

§ 4. The worker remains entitled to the bonus provided for in this article when the performance of his employment contract is suspended during the first five working days of their working week.

Modernizing the working hours

Chapter III. Increasing the quota of overtime hours for which the worker may waive compensatory rest
Art. 3.

§ 1. This chapter regulates the procedures to be followed in order to raise the quota of overtime hours for which the worker may waive compensatory rest in accordance with Article 26bis, §2bis of the labour act of 16 March 1971, to 130 hours or 143 hours.

§ 3. The provisions of this Collective Labour Agreement shall not affect the agreements already existing at company level at the time of the entry into force of this JLA and the number of overtime hours for which the worker may waive compensatory rest to 130 or 143 hours

§ 4. In companies where, prior to the entry into force of this collective labour agreement already existed an agreement allowing the quota of overtime hours for which the worker may waive compensatory rest to be increased to 130 hours, these limits may be raised immediately to 143 hours in accordance with the procedure laid down in the articles 4 and 5.

In companies where, prior to the entry into force of this Collective Labour Agreement no such an agreement existed, the quota of overtime to which the worker may waive compensatory rest may be raised in an initial phase to 130 hours and in a second phase to 143 hours, if it is found that the increase to 130 hours does not meet the labour organizational needs of the company. The increase should be done in accordance with the procedure laid down in Articles 4 and 5.

Art. 4.

§ 1. If a trade union delegation exists in the company and within the limits of its competence, the increases set out in Article 3 are determined by a collective labour agreement in the sense of the Act of December 5, 1968 on the CLA and the joint committees, concluded with all the representative organizations represented in the trade union delegation.

§ 2. As of the filing of this collective labour agreement at the Registry of the Federal Public Service Employment Labour and Social Dialogue its provisions are automatically entered in the work rules to the extent that this entry is required pursuant to the provisions of Article 6 of the Act of April 8, 1965 establishing the work rules.

Art. 5.

In the absence of a competent trade union delegation the increases determined in Article 3 shall be established by:

- A collective labour agreement in the sense of the Act of 5 December 1968 on the CLA and joint committees. As of the filing of this collective labour agreement at the registry of the Federal Public Service Employment Labour and Social Dialogue its provisions are automatically entered in the work rules to the extent that this introduction is required pursuant to the provisions of Article 6 of the Act of 8 April 1965 establishing the work rules. A copy of the Collective Labour Agreement shall be sent to the Joint Committee; or

- Until 30 June 2017: by modifying the work rules in accordance with the procedure laid down in Article 5 § 3, 4 and 5 of above mentioned Royal Decree of 11 September 2013.

Joint comment

The social partners of the Joint Committee commit themselves to give judgment within two months of receipt of the file.

Chapter IV – Validity

Art. 6. § 1.

This collective labour agreement shall apply from 1 February 2017 and is made for an indefinite duration, with the exception of article 5, last indent, which will cease to be in force on 30 June 2017.

Employers' intervention in the travel expenses

CHAPTER II. Intervention of the employer

Art. 2 The employer's intervention in the travel expenses of manual workers is fixed as follows:

a) Transport by rail (Société nationale des chemins de fer belges):

The employer's intervention in the price of the ticket used is calculated on the basis of the SNCB's train card fares. The intervention amounts to 80% on average of the price of the train card.

Annex 1 contains the amounts applicable from 1st February 2022.

Each year, this scale will be automatically adjusted in proportion to the increase in rail fares.

b) Public transport other than railways:

In the case of public transport other than railways, the employer's intervention in the price of subscriptions for journeys, shall be determined in accordance with the arrangements set out below:

- when the transport price is proportional to the distance, the employer's intervention in the price of the ticket used is calculated on the basis of the SNCB's train card fares. The intervention amounts to 80% on average of the price of the train card. This scale is set out in appendix 1 of this collective labour agreement;

- where the price is fixed, irrespective of the distance, the employer's intervention is determined on a fixed basis and amounts to 80% of the price actually paid by the worker, without however exceeding the amount of the employer's contribution for a distance of 7 kilometres (cf. scale in Appendix 1).

Each year, this scale will be automatically adjusted in proportion to the increase in rail fares.

c) Travel by bicycle:

The workers who completely or partially travel by bicycle will receive a bicycle allowance of 0.24 EUR per kilometre travelled (round trip, between home and work) for the full distance from 1st January 2020.

There are three types of "bicycles":

- The cycle:

- Any vehicle with two or more wheels:

- which is operated by muscular force, (by means of pedals or handles);

- or which is equipped with an electrically assisted motor of up to 250 W offering no support from 25 km/h (or less if the rider stops pedalling).

- The motorized cycle:

Any vehicle with two, three or four wheels with pedals:

- which is equipped with an auxiliary electric propulsion mode whose primary purpose is to assist pedalling and whose power supply is interrupted when the vehicle reaches a maximum speed of 25 km/h, excluding the cycles referred to above.

The maximum continuous rated power of the electric motor is 1 kW

- The speed pedelec:

Any two-wheeled vehicle with pedals (with the exception of the motorized cycles) :

- which is equipped with an electric auxiliary propulsion mode whose primary purpose is to assist pedalling and whose power supply is interrupted when the vehicle reaches a maximum speed of 45 km/h.

The maximum continuous rated power of the electric motor is 4 kW.

Joint comment

With a view to the fiscal and parafiscal exemption of this allowance, the employer shall take the necessary measures to be able to establish with certainty the number of journeys actually made by bicycle and the amount of the bicycle allowance, exempt from social security contributions and taxes.

The allowance provided for in this article 2 c) is indeed a bicycle allowance and not a moped allowance. It also does not apply to the persons who go to work on foot.

d) Other means of transport:

The employer's intervention shall be calculated on the basis of the scale set out in Appendix 2 of this collective labour agreement for the period from 1st February 2022, provided that the distance by the shortest route between the point of departure and the point of arrival is at least 1 kilometre.

Each year, this scale will be automatically adjusted in proportion to the increase in rail fares. As a result of this adjustment, the amount of the employer's intervention each year is 70% on average of the price of the train card for the same distance.

In the case of carpooling, the employer's intervention for the driver is equal to the intervention for rail transport (see scale in Appendix 1) .

CHAPTER III. Timing of reimbursement

Art. 3. Reimbursement of the transport costs referred to in this collective labour agreement shall be made at least once a month.

Art. 4. Without prejudice to the provisions of this collective labour agreement, the more favourable conditions for transport and reimbursement of transport costs at company level shall be maintained.

Art. 5. The practical arrangements for the implementation of this collective labour agreement shall be determined at company level.

CHAPTER IV. Duration of validity

Art. 6. It takes effect on 1 February 2022 and is concluded for an indefinite period. (
